RABBIT KEKAI NEW CLUB COACH

Surfing and paddling expert and champ Rabbit Kekai has been appointed OCC Club Captain. Rabbit is very well qualified for his new post having racked up many years of captaining paddling crews to championships. He's also surfed his way to many blue ribbons both at Waikiki and at the International meets at Makaha.

Rabbit has made his first call for all kanes and wahines interested in paddling in canoe events scheduled for the near future to check in with him or Tom Haine, club captain. Lots of training in connection with these races so sign up early to get in tip top condition for the competition.

Past, present and future paddlers will be happy to know that the Kaki-na is going to put into A#1 shape and will be ready to go for the big summer races. This fine canoe has raced home with the bacon for OCC in many events and we look for her to do it again.

If you have youngsters in your family, there are two superior recordings that can go a long way toward building an understanding of music. One is for tots, called A Child's Introduction to the Orchestra, directed by Mitch Miller (Golden Records). And for kids 10 years and up, there's a two-record album, "The Instruments of the Orchestra," narrated by David Randolph (Vanguard Records). This latter album can also provide enjoyment for adults.
