

The Outrigger Athletic page

Canoeing

Mark Buck takes over from Al Lemes as head canoe coach. Business commitments have taken Al to the neighbor islands on an infrequent schedule forcing him to turn the canoe program over to Mark. Mark has started the season off with great results as illustrated by our excellent showing at the K-Bay day races. Mark is a popular, strong and most effective coach. We all wish him the best of luck in this 1967 season.

Freshmen power at Kam Day. —Cline Mann Photo

A spectator sport? —Dick McClellan Photo

The following is an unsolicited point of view of your editor: It was all too significant to those of us involved in Outrigger Canoe racing that our club of all clubs lacks the support at the races of the general membership. Even worse, at the last race there was not one officer of the club present. Pres. Tom Arnott and Howard Goss were the only ones who showed up at the Kam Day races the week before. To be sure, this writer more than anyone appreciates the favorable actions taken by the board in allowing us to keep our equipment at its very finest level. Those of us supporting the sport after which the club is named, would like to pay respects to those officers at the races where they can see the fruits of their labor in action. To a man, our paddlers love their boat, the Leilani, and can hardly wait to try the newly rebuilt Kakina. Come out and share their pride in winning and participating in this sport. Lest anyone forget, the name of this proud ATHLETIC club is the OUTRIGGER CANOE CLUB.

This wee termite, Heidi Hemmings, steers the Novice girls and happy Sandi Hall. —Cline Mann Photo

—Cline Mann Photo

The seniors warm up for their race. —Cline Mann Photo