

Paddle Ball Goes to Sea

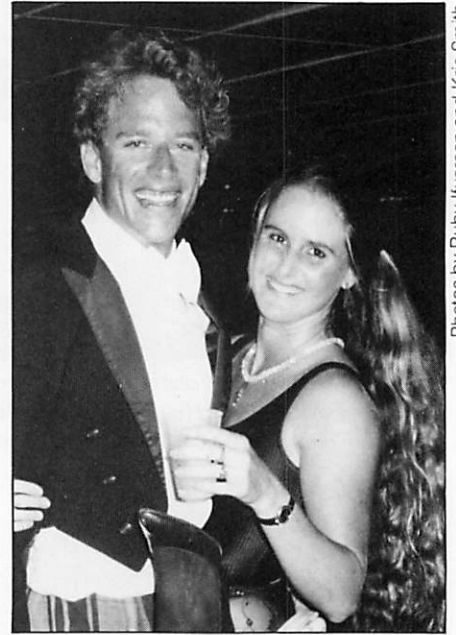

Greg Moss and Jill Cheever aboard the Aikane.

The heat wave continues! Following Outrigger's victory at the State Championships, three busloads of paddlers left to celebrate their undefeated season aboard the Aikane catamaran.

Yes, the Fourth Annual Paddle Ball was held "at sea" this year. Dress of the day was formal swimsuit, and everyone present did a fantastic job of interpreting "formal." A live band provided the entertainment as the paddlers rocked all night.

Walter Guild and Muffer Scully, last year's royalty, held a brief ceremony to announce the new King and Queen. Tom McTigue and Mary Franco were crowned and robed, and the party continued.

This year's Paddle Ball provided a spectacular finale to a tremendously successful regatta season. Let's keep the heat on for distance.

Sean McKibbon and Karen Jones enjoyed a dance.

Tom McTigue and Mary Franco, left, were crowned King and Queen of the Paddle Ball by last year's royalty, Muffer Scully and Walter Guild.

Decked out in their Mickey Mouse suits were Girl's 14 paddlers, Paige Pryor, Heidi Brissette and Alexis Brinck.

Michele St. John and Joe Dubiel wore 'formal swim suit attire.'
