

Outrigger Thumps Sunset Grill

When Mike Vasconcellos lined up a softball game at Candlestick Park, home of the San Francisco Giants, for the Sunset Grill team, he asked Outrigger for a tune-up game.

With four starters out of town, OCC Coach Jimmer Gaddis told his players, "Have fun and don't worry about getting clobbered."

After all, Sunset Grill was undefeated and OCC had yet to win a game in league play.

As it turned out, Outrigger did the clobbering, with a stunning 21-3 victory. A combination of great hitting and excellent fielding did the job.

Shortstop Bill Lawson gobbled up every ball hit his way while contributing four hits. First baseman Chris Siegfried had three hits and scored five times. Outfielders Wes Goodwin (2 hits, 4 runs) and Paki Vaughan made incredible over-the-shoulder catches to steal home runs from the opposition.

Pitcher Scott Young crushed a two-run homer in the sixth inning. Second baseman Poki Vaughan and catcher Jon Bryan had two hits a piece and played well. Third baseman Gaddis was lucky enough to collect bases-loaded hits on three occasions to drive in six runs.

The defense turned in two sensational double plays--Lawson to Siegfried and Gaddis to Young. This game proved to be the turning point for OCC regular season. The team finished with five straight victories.

Sunset Grill pitcher and columnist Don Chapman reported his team won their game in San Francisco. That added icing to the cake. ☺

Softball Team Loses Championship

After losing their first three games of the season and being seeded last in the Leahi Kapiolani Softball League playoffs, Outrigger slugged its way to the championship game.

A few new faces, added to the Pookela team for the final game, helped defeat OCC, 9-6.

Shortstop Jim Cavanah led OCC with three hits and great fielding.

Everyone contributed on the long road toward the championship. In game one of the playoffs, OCC romped past Imua, 18-4. Bill Lawson and Cavanah crushed long homers, accounting for five runs.

Chris Siegfried and Jimmer Gaddis each smacked three hits and together drove in seven runs.

Jon Bryan and Siegfried each crushed three-run homers in a 14-8 win in game two. David Dyas, Wes Goodwin, Bill Kilcoyne, Paki Vaughan, Cavanah, Lawson, Bryan and Siegfried all had two hits or more.

Maharaja Night Club was stopped 14-3. Veteran players Henry Ayau and Dennis Fern contributed two hits a piece, as did Cavanah, Lawson, Siegfried and pitcher Keith Letman. Tom Harrer added a pinch-single late in the game.

The softball team wants to continue to represent OCC in future tournaments and league play. They have great talent and enthusiasm. We hope you'll support this team for years to come. ☺
